

New Philosophy Course for Spring 2011

Ideas of Liberty in Modern Philosophy

(PHIL 315) — Professor Klein

Our ideas about liberty and individual freedom have their roots in the thinkers of the 17th and 18th centuries. We will explore these ideas in the influential works of Hobbes, Locke, Smith, Burke, and other modern thinkers.